Ragul Prasanth A

I am eager to start my career as a Software Developer because of my strong passion for technology and coding. During my studies, I gained hands-on experience with programming languages like Java and the MERN stack. I'm excited to contribute to real-world projects, learn from experienced teams, and grow in a collaborative environment. I'm also open to continuous learning and ready to take on challenges that push my skills forward.

Projects

JAVA Projects:

- Train, flight, and taxi booking systems are developed using Java.
- Java provides a robust and secure platform for building reliable booking applications.
- These systems handle real-time bookings, payments, and user management efficiently.
